Interesting Wine Fact

Wine's history begins in Asia, not Europe.

In 2016, archeologists discovered the world's oldest winery in Armenia, dating to 4100 BCE. Among the material found in a cave were a drinking bowl and cup, a grape press, and fermentation jars. The grape juice made from Vitis vinifera, was buried underground for winter, allowing it to ferment and produce wine. According to research, the final product was like an unfiltered red wine, and would have tasted like Merlot. This wine from Armenia was also the first known beverage used in religious ceremonies, as the cave was once a burial ground.

Wine Spread Around the World, but was outlawed in Japan

To prevent growing Western influence, the Japanese banned Christianity and wine consumption. It would take three more centuries for the grapevines to reappear in Japan during the Meiji restoration when the nation embraced Western culture. At this point, wine was now present on all the continents except Antarctica.

TAITTINGER The Commitment to a Name

Its origins date back to 1734 when the original house was founded by Jacques Fourneaux. The Taittinger link was established in 1931 when Pierre Taittinger, the founder of today's company acquired the House. Pierre spent time in the Champagne region when serving in the 1st world war as a young cavalry officer.

Taittinger's home is situated above miles of chalk tunnels and cellars. These 4th century UNESCO listed cellars once belonged to the Benedictine monks of the abbey of St Nicaise and are perfect for the slow ageing process required for great Champagne.

Taittinger remains one of the few Champagne Houses to be owned and actively managed by the family named on the label.

Domaine Christian Moreau Père et Fils is a wine producer based in Chablis, in northern Burgundy. The company has a history dating back to 1814 with the establishment of the wine merchant trading company J. Moreau et Fils, founded by Jean Joseph Moreau.

The Domaine Christian Moreau Père et Fils was born in 2001 and first vintage to be bottled was 2002. I gave my son Fabien the keys of the Domaine in 2001 when he came back from New Zealand asking him to make the wines that he loves in the respect of our terroir of Chablis. After a few years, Fabien decided to turn the vineyard into Organic Agriculture.

History of Winemaking in India

The history of winemaking in India is quite hazy; many people assert that it started about 4,000 years ago. Indian mythology, on the other hand, provide information on wine drinking going well beyond this period. Regardless of your opinion of the legends, it is undeniably true that the Mughal emperors ate Shiraz from Persia.

In the late 1800s, the wine produced in India became quite popular.
